SEEKING CIVIL/ENVIRONMENTAL ENGINEERS ENGINEERING GEOLOGISTS ENVIRONMENTAL SCIENTISTS

The California Central Coast Regional Water Quality Control Board (Water Board) anticipates an ongoing need for Water Resource Control Engineers (WRCE), Engineering Geologists, and Environmental Scientists.

HIRING PROCESS

The State of California's civil service hiring process is explained at http://www.waterboards.ca.gov/about_us/employment/apply.shtml and starts with a competitive examination, ranking in relation to others taking the exam, and then placement on a hiring list. The hiring list is used to fill vacant positions as they become available using a typical interviewing process.

You may take these exams online, offered on a continual basis, at the web-link indicated above.

YOU CANNOT GET AN INTERVIEW UNLESS YOU TAKE THE TIME TO GET ON A HIRING LIST.

After you have taken an exam and have successfully been placed on a hiring list, you may submit your application(s) for open positions as instructed in the vacancy announcements at http://www.waterboards.ca.gov/about_us/employment/jobs.shtml
